

GIVE INCUBATOR TO HOSPITAL

An incubator was presented to York County hospital on Wednesday afternoon last week by the West Gwillimbury chapter of the I.O.D.E. The chapter received its charter in March. The incubator was officially presented to Frank Courtney, secretary of the hospital board, by Mrs. A. C. Tapp, regent of the chapter. Presentation was made in front of a memorial plaque and portrait of the late Margaret Johnson Davis in whose memory the maternity wing was built. Left to right are Mrs. Tapp, Mrs. R. J. Rogers, president of the Hospital Ladies' Aid, Miss L. Thomas, hospital superintendent, and Frank Courtney. Era and Express photo.

N. Gwill. Assessments 'Irregular', Mogg Urges Twp. Put House In Order

The second review of assessment appeals was held in a North Gwillimbury court of revision at Belhaven yesterday. The last court of revision, near the end of November, was stormy with a large number of property owners demanding equality in assessments. Yesterday many of the same appeals were heard again before H. G. Mogg, Grimby, a specialized assessor who was brought in by the township.

Mr. Mogg, who is at present doing assessments for Carleton county and also for the Federal District Commission, said that the North Gwillimbury valuations are "very irregular".

"The assessment is very low in some instances and very high in others," he said. "The reason is that the township has taken an 'eyeball' value on property for some years and any man's guess has been as good as another's. A re-assessment of the whole township should be started at once," he said.

Most of the appellants heard said that they were not complaining about the taxes they had to pay but about the inequality of assessments. Several said that they had higher assessments than neighbors whose properties were the same or higher in value. The court said that the results of its decision on the appeals would be announced later.

"The task here is an unfair one because it is impossible to get into some cottages," Mr. Mogg said. "I reviewed them on 1940 values, compared them with the present assessment and tried to work out a percentage for

Acclaim Reeve, Deputy Five Candidates For Whitchurch Council

The Whitchurch township elections for council will be held on New Year's day. Five candidates stand for the three council positions. Elected by acclamation at the nomination meeting in the township hall, Vandorf, last Friday were Ivan McLaughlin for reeve and Fred Timbers for deputy-reeve.

Mr. McLaughlin was deputy-reeve in 1930 and Mr. Timbers has been a member of the council for five years. Two former councillors, R. C. Baycroft and P. S. Legge, are among the candidates for 1951 council. The others, running for the first time, are J. A. Clarke, a farmer in the township, Delos Graham, a well driller who resides at Ballantrae, and E. L. McCarron who owns a farm in the township and is sales manager for Burns and Company.

Reeve Ed Logan is retiring from municipal office after 11 years, the last two as reeve. Addressing council last Friday afternoon, he said that he regretted leaving but described his pleasure in serving during the long period.

"This is the end of another council year and the end of 100 years of municipal history in the township. It has been a period of great advances," he said. Describing some of the good legislation the council had enacted during his tenure of office, he mentioned the township brought to my attention which are not assessed. That is not so serious because the assessment act says the municipal clerk can add them to the assessment roll this year or any year they were missed and taxes may be collected for the last three years," he said.

Mr. Mogg said that in dealing with the appeals it was difficult to find a common "yardstick" which the assessor used in the municipality. He said that it would be difficult to try and equalize the appeals on the basis of the existing assessment. "The assessment should be equalized and lands recharted on a map to show the extent of the properties," he said. One appellant told the court that he was being assessed for a cottage which had been moved to Muskoka where it had already been assessed.

The new assessment manual suggests a lower rate for cottages although it has not yet been made law, he said. It is a common sense attitude since the cottage owner has an argument in that he does not send children to school and should not be made to pay school tax. According to the present law, it cannot be done yet, he said.

He pointed out that the entire township has been raised $1,400,000 on the county assessment and that the person who raised it only took spot values. "Without a complete equalization of assessment, there is no way that you can prove the county man is wrong," he told members of council who sat on the court. He said that the taxpayers are really shareholders in a $4,000,000 business and that they should be interested in how it is directed.

"You in the township have gone along in a rut without putting your own house in order and then the county comes along and raises the assessment. Then you are in a helpless position to know where you are wrong," he said.

He reminded the members of the possibility of an amalgamation of the southern part of the county. "If that comes you will be required to pay more taxes for such things as roads which carry the business to and from the city, and there will be fewer people to pay for them. It is all the more necessary that you don't lose money on a poor assessment in the community," he said.

Nearly every appellant at the court requested that council hire Mr. Mogg to do the complete re-assessment of the township. One appellant, Harold Brice, a cottage owner from Toronto, said, "The complaint I have is in the inequality only. I think this man has a lot of experience behind him and should be hired to do the job this year."

Andrew Watson, who appealed his $5,100 assessment on his farm, stated that he would be satisfied with a complete re-assessment by Mr. Mogg.

SEASONAL GIVING

Less Fortunate Remembered On Christmas Eve

Christmas baskets numbering well over the 100 mark were distributed throughout Newmarket and district on the Saturday and Sunday before Christmas by district service organizations.

The Newmarket Legion branch and the Newmarket Veterans' Association distributed baskets to their less fortunate comrades, including in their lists families who had suffered unexpected misfortune like that of Clare Sargent whose family lost their home and all their belongings two weeks before Christmas.

Lions clubs in Newmarket, Aurora and Oak Ridges carried out campaigns for funds for Christmas baskets in the weeks before Christmas. Newmarket members distributed baskets to 33 families on Christmas Eve. In Aurora, the Aurora Legion branch gave substantial support to the Aurora Lions who were undertaking a Christmas basket campaign for the first time. In Oak Ridges, 24 families received baskets from the Lions.

The churches acted as clearing centers for baskets and "White Gifts" throughout the district with contributions from Newmarket going as far away as those of St. Paul's church who sent their gifts to a mission in Baffin Land. Other churches sent their gifts to missions closer to home.

The Newmarket Friends took up a collection at their Christmas party for the Save The Children Fund. The Women's Institutes too sent contributions to this fund which is concerned with the child victims of war in Europe.

The following are contributions to the Newmarket Lions Christmas basket fund not previously acknowledged:

W.I. MEMBERS VISIT YORK HOME

A very successful Christmas party was held for the residents of the York County home, Yonge St. on December 18 by the members of the Newmarket Women's Institute.

The program opened with the singing of Christmas carols and throughout the evening carols were enjoyed with everyone joining in heartily. The accompaniment was provided by Mrs. C. E. Blodale, piano, and Miss Hilda Tumelty and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Colville, violins.

Rev. L. Coupland who brought the Christmas message acted as master of ceremonies and kept the program running smoothly. Seven year old Denise Tunney delighted her appreciative audience with several piano selections and an amusing song was contributed by Mrs. Colville accompanied by Mrs. Blodale.

A large Christmas tree, bright with colored lights and ornaments, had been decorated earlier by the Institute members. This will be left up for the enjoyment of the residents, of whom there are 85, until after the new year.

At the close of the program Santa paid a visit leaving a present, candy and fruit for each of the old folk whose genuine enjoyment of the entire proceedings was very evident. Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, president of the Institute said that the group was very appreciative of all the wonderful donations they had received towards this party. This is the second consecutive year that such a project has been handled by the Newmarket group and it is planned that next year will see a repeat performance.

Recount Confirms MacNaughton's Loss Other Totals Doubted

New Election Now Only Way To End Doubt

Newmarket now has, as a result of the recount of council votes, a candidate whose election day total put her out of the council race but whose recounted total places her among the successful candidates. And despite that she is legally unable to take her seat.

The recount of votes placed Mrs. MacNaughton in a tie for fifth place with Mr. Rudy Renzius, and ahead of Mr. Lorne Paynter. Frank Bowser was moved from sixth to fourth place.

The recount also throws considerable doubt upon the totals of election day of Tom Birrell, Mr. Renzius and Mr. Paynter. The five candidates were within 24 votes of each other. It can be argued that if Mrs. MacNaughton and Mr. Bowser picked up ten, and 11 votes respectively by a recount, the totals of the other three are questionable, and in such a close race, a recount of the votes of all five would alter the results still further.

The Municipal Act allows only one way of determining the final choice of candidates, and that is by another election. Mrs. MacNaughton could apply for a new election on the grounds of the discrepancies uncovered by the recount, and the chances are it would be granted.

Mrs. MacNaughton could not be reached during the week for a statement so the issue is still open.

MAKE QUICK ARREST

Provincial Constables R. Seyffert and W. Dewar made a quick arrest Thursday. Within minutes of being notified by radio of the license number of a car being driven south on No. 11 highway by a break-in suspect, the car was stopped by the officers on the northern outskirts of Aurora and Ivan Vavacour, Jarvis St., Toronto, was taken into custody.

HEALTH UNIT REPORTS

Start Milk Survey, Immunization

Plans were made by the York County health unit last month for a complete immunization program for pre-school and school-age groups throughout the entire unit area. The unit has conducted a survey of milk-producing farms which is nearing completion and will make it possible to assess the sanitation of milk supplies being shipped to district dairies.

Reporting communicable disease to the medical officer of health has become more common and it is expected that within a few weeks or months, the public will become accustomed to reporting all cases to the health unit.

The need has been stressed for the increase of the staff of four public health nurses to a minimum of seven, as was recommended when the York County health unit was planned. Each nurse tries to give her own dis-

The recount of Newmarket council votes last Thursday confirms the defeat of Mrs. Violet Robinson MacNaughton. Mrs. MacNaughton trailed Mr. Frank Bowser, lowest successful candidate, by three votes on election day. The recount increased his lead by one vote.

The irony of the situation is found, however, in the new totals for Mr. Bowser and Mrs. MacNaughton. The recount added 11 votes to Mr. Bowser's total to raise him from sixth to fourth place in the balloting, and added ten votes to Mrs. MacNaughton's total to tie her with the fifth place candidate, Mr. Rudy Renzius, and give her more votes than Mr. Lorne Paynter who had placed fifth on election day.

Despite this increase, Mrs. MacNaughton cannot take her seat in council.

The Municipal Act permits the counting of the ballots of only the lowest successful candidate and the highest defeated candidate, and the only question to be settled is whether the defeated candidate can overtake the lead of the successful candidate. Had Mrs. MacNaughton's total been increased over Mr. Bowser's as a result of the recount, he would have lost his seat no matter how high his final total.

As it was, Mr. Bowser's lead was increased by one and Mrs. MacNaughton's defeat was confirmed.

The results of the December 4 election gave the last six candidates the following totals: Mrs. MacNaughton 701, Frank Bowser 704, Lorne Paynter 708, Rudy Renzius 711, Tom Birrell 725 and J. O. Dales 729. Charles Vanzant was well ahead of the group with 793.

The results of Mrs. MacNaughton's and Frank Bowser's votes gave the defeated candidate, Mrs. MacNaughton, 711 votes and Frank Bowser 715. The judge's interpretation of the municipal act holds that the recount contest was merely between Mrs. MacNaughton and Mr. Bowser but many consider that since she obtained more votes than one candidate by the recount and tied with another, she has a right to a seat on council.

Many questioned whether Lorne Paynter should keep his seat since his official total stands at 708, three below Mrs. MacNaughton's recounted total. Legally, however, there can be no argument against Mr. Paynter's election and it is still possible that he would have more votes than 708 if his ballots were recounted. There is, however, no way in the act whereby Mr. Paynter, Mr. Renzius or anyone else could have their ballots recounted.

When asked by The Era and Express of an opinion last night, Mr. Paynter said "I have nothing to say other than it is not within my power to do anything about it. Any moves to be made are up to Mrs. MacNaughton. The discrepancies in the election warrant another election. There are really none of us except Mrs. MacNaughton and Mr. Bowser who know how many votes we got."

In the recount, ballot counts tended to increase for both candidates so it is possible Mr. Paynter's count would have increased also.

Nearly 10 Admissions At Y.C. Hospital Daily

Admissions at York County hospital during the month of November were high, numbering 254. There were 89 operations, 62 births and 394 x-rays. Figures show that admissions averaged close to ten a day.

The monthly meeting of the York County hospital medical society was held Friday, Dec. 1. The meeting was devoted to a discussion of hospital by-laws. The Ontario Medical Association has been arranging a set by-laws to bring uniformity of regulations into all hospitals in Ontario. At this meeting the by-laws were approved.

The newly formed Journal club of the hospital medical staff had its first meeting December 5. A paper was presented on rheumatic heart disease by Dr. John Dales. These clinical discussions are to be held by the medical staff twice a month.

Robert Brooks Appointed Drug Store Manager

Robert W. Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brooks, has been appointed manager of the St. Thomas branch of the Standard Drug Ltd. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and their four month old daughter, Lorel, live in St. Thomas.

Mr. Brooks was an apprentice druggist in Newmarket where he was born and raised. He joined the Royal Canadian Navy in December, 1943. He was in the service, most of the time, at St. John's, Newfoundland, as a hospital dispenser until taking his discharge in January, 1946. He entered the Ontario College of Pharmacy, graduating in 1947. He was employed by Tamblin's going to St. Thomas in 1948. He is a member of the St. Thomas Junior Chamber of Commerce, an enthusiastic bowler, and a member of the United church.

KINDERGARTEN MEETING

An executive meeting of the Aurora Nursery School and Kindergarten was held at the home of Mrs. L. Rubin December 19 when reports of the progress of the school were given by Mrs. J. J. Del Grande and Mrs. G. A. Hines. A discussion was held in regard to necessary equipment and it was decided to appeal to the public for the loan of a record player or victrola and a chest of drawers or wardrobe suitable for storing supplies. Anyone who would loan these articles temporarily please contact Mrs. J. P. Crydala, Aurora 146.

Mrs. MacNaughton could not take the place of Mr. Paynter if he resigned his seat on council. Nominations would have to be held for that one position and an election held to seat another member on council.

Christmas this year was a good Christmas. It seemed to assume a fresh significance, to possess a depth which has been wanting in our busy exploitation of Christianity's greatest festival in other years.

Perhaps it was the contrast between our firelit room, rich with children's laughter, and the frozen slopes of Korea. Perhaps it was because even as we sat down to a festive dinner, our radios were telling us of an expected attack by the Chinese.

Or it could have been that we had begun to see beyond the Korean incident, to appreciate the meaning of the "police action", to recognize it as only the prelude to the greater struggle. And here was our chance for one, last unhampered celebration.

It might have been all these things. It seemed to us to mean something more. For here was an expression of faith. In our celebration of Christmas, there was the re-affirmation of our beliefs and the statement of our determination to uphold these beliefs.

Christmas this year was celebrated as if we, most of us, had become very conscious of the importance of that faith, and the importance of renewing its outward show. Here was our challenge, the answer to those forces which would extinguish the light which shone over a little town two thousand and fifty years ago.

Mr. Bruce West wrote in the Globe and Mail a few days before Christmas an entertaining reminiscence of his boyhood when he had gone out and cut the Christmas tree from a nearby bush. It was inspiring stuff, very heady for this small property owner with a bush lot beyond the next field. We had had a sneaking intention, of doing just that, cutting our own tree. West's article was all we needed. On Friday morning, we rallied the children, found the hatchet, and sallied forth. The bush lay in a valley and was a lovely sight in the bright morning. The snow was pocked by rabbit tracks and some other signs which were loosely interpreted as deer tracks. "Santa's deer," we assured the children, "hitched in the valley while he inspected the chimney for size and general availability."

But if the valley was lovely, it also had its disadvantages. It was full of thorny brambles and what are children for but to fall in the brambles. No doubt in the proper season, the brambles carried as juicy a harvest of berries as one could want, but on this winter's morning, all we harvested was innumerable scratches as we plunged to the rescue of children hung high and dry and wailing by the seat of their snow suits.

Finding the proper tree wasn't like West described it either. He made it seem quite simple and all very pat. We hunted the better part of two hours before we found a hemlock with a graceful spread. By then, the children were exhausted and weepy.

For a moment, as we whacked at the tree, we recaptured some of West's inspiration, that is until we almost cut our leg off. Then it was simply a matter of cutting the darn thing down as quickly as possible and making tracks for home. We hauled the tree out of the valley, then returned for a lost mitten, and finally reached home, too exhausted to be triumphant.

We suspect that it has been a long time, much longer than West pretends, since he cut down his tree.

The prize for the most asinine remark goes without contest to the radio announcer on Saturday who introduced a carol with the remark that it was as appropriate to Christmas as the evergreen and the holly. Apart from the reverse emphasis on the two aspects of Christmas, we wonder if the announcer was aware that the evergreen and holly were pagan customs.

Well, it is resolution time again.

CONFUSION UNLIMITED

The recount of the ballots of Mrs. Violet Robinson MacNaughton and Mr. Frank Bowser was intended to remove any doubt about their standing in the closest council race Newmarket has ever had. But instead of removing that doubt, the recount has succeeded only in creating greater uncertainty.

And Newmarket, which has something of a reputation for lively politics, maintains that tradition with a candidate whose recounted ballots entitle her to a seat on council but is prevented from taking that seat by the provisions of the thoroughly inadequate legislation for municipal elections. And worse, there are now strong grounds for the belief that one of at least four of the newly-elected council would lose his seat if there was a recount of all council ballots instead of just those of Mr. Bowser and Mrs. MacNaughton.

If a recount of ballots added 11 and ten votes respectively to the election day totals of Mr. Bowser and Mrs. MacNaughton, then there is every reason to believe that discrepancies exist in the totals of the other candidates. Five candidates, Messrs. Birrell, Renzius, Paynter and Bowser, and the defeated candidate, Mrs. MacNaughton, were within 24 votes of each other. It would take very little to change their standing. The addition of the 11 and the ten votes to Mr. Bowser's and Mrs. MacNaughton's totals were enough to raise them from sixth and seventh place to fourth and fifth in total returns, and lower Mr. Paynter's standing from fifth to seventh place.

The addition of half the number of votes to Mr. Paynter's total would be enough to return him to within the council ranks. And it is quite reasonable, in view of the errors in tabulating Mr. Bowser's and Mrs. MacNaughton's votes, to expect that he could pick up this number in a recount. It is just as reasonable of course, to assume that his, and the totals of Messrs. Birrell and Renzius, might be lowered by a recount.

One way or another, Newmarket is now represented by a council whose mandate from the people is somewhat in doubt—and short of calling for a new election, there is nothing which can be done about it.

A BIG AND NASTY JOB

(County Free Press Herald, Midland)

If the federal government decides to set up price and civilian supply controls in Canada, it will probably be under a separate ministry.

In world war two, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board started out under the Ministry of Labor and ended up under Finance. Procurement of war materials and their subtraction from the civilian economy were, however, the responsibility of C. D. Howe's Department of Munitions and Supply whose controllers also administered price controls, but under Donald Gordon, in those same fields.

This division of controls between two agencies, generally as to whether they related to the war or civilian economies, worked reasonably well. Whether in the stress of a sudden, all-out fight, however, the control agencies could again be separated is questionable.

Certainly price controls cannot be segregated from supply controls. Nor can these domestic controls be divorced from restrictions on import and export trade and credit and labor policies.

Even if a separate ministry is established to guide the destinies of second wartime prices and trade board it will have to be closely linked with Finance, Labor, Trade and Commerce, and the purchasing of the Department of National Defence.

Once a price ceiling is imposed, either on one item or a group of commodities or services, the ramifications are so wide and so complicated that they seem literally to have no end. That is why an over-all price ceiling accompanied by broad credit controls, channeling of labor, and rigid import and export restrictions, were held essential wartime companions from 1939 to 1945.

Whoever takes on the job, it is a nasty one.

RESTORING SOIL FERTILITY

(Swift Current Sun)

A large proportion of the 50 million tons of annual straw production in Canada is either abandoned on the ground or in stacks, or is burned, states a booklet made public by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Pointing out the need for accelerated research both in industrial and agricultural utilization of straw, the booklet entitled "The Utilization of Straw in Canada" was written by E. S. Archibald, director of Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, and G. A. Ledingham, J. B. Marshall and J. E. Stone of the National Research Laboratories, Saskatoon.

Return to the soil of straw and other crop residues to restore fertility and help prevent soil erosion is advocated by Dr. Archibald. Tests in Western Canada had shown that crop residue, including straw from a ten-bushel per acre crop of wheat would return to the soil about 900 pounds per acre of organic matter. There was no need, however, to put back all of it, as straw could serve as part of the winter forage for livestock. "It is extremely doubtful that any industrial use can be found for straw which would make it sufficiently profitable on the majority of eastern farms to compensate for the loss of straw if such a loss had to be replaced by the use of chemical fertilizers," he commented.

But looking at it from the Western angle, Mr. Ledingham, Mr. Marshall and Mr. Stone put forward the view that research on industrial utilization of straw should go forward "hand in hand" with basic agricultural studies. Technicians in the Prairie Regional Laboratory at Saskatoon are looking into the various industrial uses of straw such as the production of corrugating, container, structural boards and briquettes for fuel. Although fine paper-making was not an immediate object of research, it was noted that "cereal straw will give a sheet of white writing paper which to the naked eye and to the touch is indistinguishable from a high quality bond made from wood pulp." Straw as a possible source of chemicals is also being examined.

A Happy
New Year To All

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Cyril Izzem, Cuttin' Corners' modern artist who just dropped in, looked into the fire in hopes that he would find some new meaning. His brother, Bud Izzem was studying a Chinese dictionary and all was quiet. Slim Bliggins, our own natural born primitive artist, leaned back and lit up an old butt of yesterday's after-breakfast El Pando cigar. "No sooner than the end of 1950, comes the beginning of 1951," mused Slim. "That's real profound, now that you put it that way," I said, steeped in heavy thought. "And what, pray, is our noble little group going to toast at this New Year's Eve?" asked Cyril, still searching in the embers.

There was silence for a few moments until Slim's face lit up with the realization that he had thought of something original. "Let's us all drink a toast to here's not being radioactive next year at this time," he said, holding up a glass of distilled mountain ash berry juice. "Here's to not being radioactive!" we echoed, glasses high.

But Cyril Izzem did not raise his glass of mountain ash berry juice. He sat pensive, staring into the glowing embers. "I think you are all treating a serious thing entirely too lightly," he pouted. "Fret not old fruit," says I. "There's always a silver lining. Maybe you aren't even nuclear or something. Chances are that you couldn't even contri-

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We were up very early Christmas morning to get the chores done and to be back at the house when the children woke up. Doing chores in the winter time can be quite a job, with the wind blowing outside and the barn steamed up and all the difficulties that come from frozen doors and stiff tracks.

But there is something very satisfying to be able to work with the animals day after day. It gives us the pleasure which we miss when the outside work is waiting and chores become just a necessary evil that has to be done fast in order to get on the land.

We would like to say too, that we think that there is something very special about doing chores on Christmas day. We find it difficult to explain why. But probably the real explanation is that everything done on Christmas day has a special happiness in it and so it is not surprising that it should make us feel good.

That happiness may come too from the memory of other Christmases, like the one when we went to the barn early in the morning and found two newborn heifer calves waiting for us. That was our nicest Christmas gift that year.

And there are other reasons for the special feeling about chores that day. On other holidays, we take turns doing chores, but on Christmas day, we all get at it and drudgery becomes a pleasure when done in good company. We finish in good time and we have a long day to look forward to.

It would be good if we could make this holiday feeling last at least until spring comes again. We think that next to Christmas, the happiest time to do chores is when the grass has just turned green and there is a little dew on the fields, the sun is warm again and we can open a few windows and doors. Then we can see the cattle trying to turn in their stanchions and pick up their ears at our approach and we again have this happy and satisfying feeling of things to come, fields to sow, crops to harvest, and we think that life on the farm is fine with us.

There are the times on the farm, these and a few others we can well remember, when there is a finality in the day's work, as if we had completed a certain phase of our work on the farm and also in our life. For example, after finishing the haying or the threshing, and maybe next morning, there is a quiet rain falling. Or again in the fall, when we first stable the cattle and the wind blows outside and we put the first hay in front of them and the cattle take big heavy bites of it.

Soon it will be January the first. It is only a date on the calendar and from the standpoint of the farm, it is but another day, not a real turning point like the end of a season.

We don't know what the new year will bring us. We all feel helpless, the way we feel when we see the storm gathering with a load of hay still in the field, and knowing a little extra effort will save some of it but that the next field, all ready to come in, will get the downpour.

But this feeling of helplessness is counterbalanced as long as we can remember those few important days on the farm, like doing chores at Christmas and going on the land the first time in the spring and the others. It is well for us to stop and think and let it sink into our hearts, this feeling of the end of something and remembering the pleasure of the beginning of another phase. It is the rhythm of life on the farm. It is the true New Year, a time when we can remember other New Year's and all that went on in between and make a little accounting with ourselves, our failures and successes, our joys and disappointments.

May we draw strength from these turning points for the next year and learn from our mistakes and draw new determination from our happiness. And may we wish you the same and many of them.

A reception was held in Holland Landing hall for Col. Lennox when he was presented with a club bag. Speakers were Wm. Keith, M.P.P., H. H. Gordon, Frank Regan and A. J. Trebilcock of Toronto. Entertainment was provided by J. Williams and Miss Millie Ward.

A family gathering is being held Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morton. Among those attending are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morton, Keswick, and Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Morton and children, Thornbury. Mr. Charles Bovair, chief engineer in the tannery of the Davis Leather Co., has succeeded in obtaining a first class stationary engineer's certificate. Mr. Bovair has the distinction of being the only engineer in Newmarket who holds that certificate, and one of one hundred in the province of Ontario.

There was fine skating on Lake Simcoe before the last snow storm. The ice is so clear that objects can be seen at the bottom of the lake.

The Christmas market on Saturday was crowded with buyers and sellers. Eggs were from 50 to 60 cents a doz., butter 40 to 45 cents a lb. Dressed chickens were selling at 20 to 30 cents lb., dressed ducks 35 cents lb., dressed geese 22 to 25 cents lb., dressed turkeys 45 to 48 cents lb. DECEMBER 28, 1940

Mr. F. Arthur Oliver of the Metropolitan School of Music staff has received the appointment of organist and choirmaster of Westminster Presbyterian church in Toronto.

Considerable interest was taken in guessing the weight of a large sugar cane about 5 ft. long hung in the window of Jack's Bakery. The nearest guess was made by Frank Barry of town. The correct weight was 13 lbs., 10 1/2 oz.

Miss Clelland, grand-daughter of Mr. Robert Clelland, Newmarket, who attended model school here last session, has secured a school 2 1/2 miles north of Holt for the coming year.

There was not a very large market last Saturday, but quite a crowd of people in town. New laid eggs were still in demand at 25 cents a doz., butter sold from 16 to 20 cents a lb. Dressed turkeys were 9 to 10 cents, dressed geese 6 1/2 to 8 cents, dressed ducks 75 to 80 cents pair and dressed chickens from 40 to 60 cents pair.

Mr. Alonzo French of Pickering College is spending his vacation at the home of his father, Mr. J. H. French, Mount Albert.

Mr. C. A. Thompson, mechanical foreman at Cane's factory was presented with a set of gauges and calipers by the workers in the iron department.

A reunion was held at the home of Mr. Hy. Richardson on Christmas day. There were 30 guests, among them Mr. and Mrs. Silas Pearson, Toronto, and Mr. Oscar Stephens, who has been up north for 2 years.

Mr. Thomas Hopkins, a former pupil of Newmarket high and model schools, who has been teaching in North Bay for the past two years is spending his holidays in town.

TOWN HALL TOWER

I expect all of you saw that splendid full-page Christmas greeting and message of good will, sponsored by Newmarket Manufacturers' association, in last week's paper, but I do not suppose many of you thought about the picture particularly.
You might have just thought of it as a suitable Christmas picture, with the Star of Bethlehem shining down over a little hamlet. But did you notice the Bell Tower and the three doves? And did it remind you of anything in connection with our town? It did me, very much so!

The doves of peace made me think of the lovely pigeons that fly round the tower on our town hall. The tower isn't exactly like ours, but you can let your imagination work a little bit,
and just fancy that the picture represents Newmarket and the doves are the pigeons that call our town hall tower their home.

Our dear old town hall has always had a specially prominent place in my life. In fact I can't imagine the town without it, and oh, well I ever feel badly
if, in the name of "safety first",
that tower on top has to be removed, for I've loved that old building just the way it is for so long and I believe it holds second place in my heart. First, naturally, being the church—and I don't care a rap what other people think of me for making such a plain statement of my sentiments! It has always been a part of my life from the days I was in the kindergarten class and at a school concert we had to sing nursery rhyme songs on that platform, stage I mean, in the same old town hall. I recall I was out in front—my partner and I—and was so unaware of the audience that I turned in wonder and surprise when they laughed out loud as we sang
"And the awkward owl and the bashful jay wished each other
a very good day" for the girls had to make a curtsy, and the boys had to put one hand on their heart and bow to the girls.
Yes, from my earliest days, in kindergarten, and recent years, the stage in our town hall has been a familiar spot—and as I said it has influenced my life, no doubt. However, that is beside the point! What I want to advocate is that I do hope we can keep the tower! It makes me think of pictures of overseas places with town halls and pigeons in the town square—and I am old-fashioned enough to love

it, and to want to keep it as it is now. Oh by the way—have you seen the brand new entrance door at the north, facing Botsford St. I assure you it gives our town hall quite an air!

Remembering the Birds
Now I must say a word for our feathered friends! Do please remember them, for when the deep snow comes they are so dependent on us. Their natural food is covered up, and we must help them, for a day or so at least after a heavy snowfall.
I've been having quite a time
with dogs getting the birds' food lately especially the marrow bones and suet, so I have a new plan—no, not new, but I'd not bothered in this busy time to do what I always do, and that is make a "coconut suet ball", and in that way make certain the birds get what you put out for them. Just cut a quarter section from a coconut shell (you'll get the coconut out all right) and fill the cavity with suet and meat scraps—hang it up out of the reach of prowlers and you'll have a heap of joy
watching the birds enjoy it.

If dogs and cats can reach it,
they surely will demolish it, and the birds will be left foodless.
I always try to have things like that in a place that I can see from my kitchen window and I do love to see them enjoy what I put out! I may be mistaken, but there does seem to be an unusual number of dogs around these days—knocking over garbage cans and chasing pet cats.

Christmas Parties
What a lot of delightful
Christmas parties and meetings,
with Christmas programs, there have been lately! I was at such an enjoyable house-party the other evening and I just wish
Mr. Kohler, who demonstrated Christmas decorations made from things one could obtain from nature at the Horticultural meeting, could have seen what beautiful things our hostess made from what he told us that night!

A Christmas yule-log decorated
the mantel over her fire place,
besides other lovely centerpieces,
and the spray with the candy-cane for a wall decoration. Her Christmas tree was a picture too, but the crowning glory, in the opinion of the children at least was "Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer". The actual thing!
Yes, a big stag's head on the wall
had been turned into "Rudolph"
by the son of the house, with a red bulb on its nose lighted up with batteries. It really was a masterpiece and created a good deal of fun for young and old alike. Mr. Kohler didn't invent that one though!

The Christmas programs have been lovely, up to now, (Christmas Eve) and this afternoon we heard Kate Aitken broadcast from Jerusalem, and she will broadcast again tomorrow at 7.45 p.m. so I hope to hear that as well. In a few hours it will be Christmas Day. I warrant many a youngster won't sleep very sound tonight. They will be watching or trying to keep awake to watch should I say, for Santa Claus to come down the chimney! When you read this,
we all will know what Christmas has meant to us! If this office is closed for Boxing Day,
then maybe I will write a few more lines on Tuesday.

"Day After . . ."
Well, the office is evidently closed, for I received no answer
when I called 780, so here I am with something else to record.
This is Tuesday, the day after Christmas, and on the early broadcast the startling news that the Stone of Scone, the coronation stone, has been stolen from its place under the coronation chair on which all the monarchs of England, save one, have been crowned for the past 600 years.
The B.B.C. newscast at noon said nobody in England could think of anything else today but the loss of "The Stone". It is the most famous relic in the British Isles. I have written of it before—how I saw a replica of it down in the Toronto museum
a few years ago, and was so fascinated.

It is traditionally supposed to be the stone Jacob used for a pillow that night when, fleeing from the wrath of his brother Esau, he had a vision of angels ascending and descending a ladder reaching up from earth to Heaven. In the morning he set the stone up for a pillar in remembrance. Later the same stone was carried by the Israelites in their 40 years wandering in the desert. Later again it was carried by the prophet Jeremiah
and the Israel princess Tea-Tephi to Ireland, where she became the bride of the young king of Ireland, and they were crowned on the Stone. Later it was taken to Scone, Scotland, and then to England, being called the Stone of Scone, and all British kings were crowned above it, all except one. We will follow its adventures with interest. But all I know at the time of writing is that Scotland Yard so far has no knowledge of its whereabouts.

The people who were wishing for a "white Christmas" surely must have been satisfied. Snow enough and cold enough to keep it nice and white here in Newmarket at any rate. The snow crunches musically under one's feet! Also there was a halo, a beautiful halo, round the moon.
I fancy it must be like sun-dogs and predict cold weather, for sure it's cold today!

A Happy New Year to every one—hundreds of them as the old Irish woman said! From Golden Glow.

Suggest Planning Board
Help Settle Industry
In Whitchurch Twp.

Reporting to Whitchurch township council at its last regular meeting, L. P. Evans, vice chairman of the township planning board, stated that 11 meetings had been held and 51 cases dealt with since the board's inception.

Mr. Evans in summing up the work of the board stated that he believed a small charge on each lot in any new sub-division would bear the cost of maintaining this service. He also thought that the board could act as an industrial committee, to induce industry to settle in the township, particularly in thickly populated sections such as Oak Ridges. Such industry would ease the high cost of education.

Council agreed that members of the planning board should be paid $5 per meeting for their services.

There was some discussion
concerning the delay of Newmarket fire brigade in attending a recent fire in the north section of the township, close to the town limits. It was stated the town engineer would not send out the outfit until Councillor Bowser could be located and give the okay.

Council stated that it paid $60
a fire to the Newmarket brigade with the understanding it was to attend all fires in the northern corner of the municipality.

"We should have been notified
if it made some change in the set-up," stated Councillor Legge.

A copy of the by-law calling for the annexation of a portion of Whitchurch lying just west of the town limits of Newmarket was tabled from the Newmarket council. It has now been forwarded to the Ontario municipal board for approval.

General accounts passed for payment amounted to $1,065.73.
Payment of services was also made to council members for 1950, with $350 going to the reeve and $300 to each of the other members.

A recommendation was tabled for the 1951 council calling for increases in the salaries of the three office employees of the township. The present council made the increases retroactive to November 1 of this year and will pay the recommended figures for the final two months of the year.

The new table of salaries calls
for payment to John Crawford, clerk and treasurer, of $3,000 a year, an increase of $600; to Fred Cummings, assessor, $2,400 and $500 mileage, an increase of $400;
and to Les Harper, assistant clerk, $2,200, an increase of $200.

Mr. Harper took exception to the new schedule, stating that he did not feel he was fairly dealt with, and believed his services were comparable to those of the assessor or road superintendent.

"We could get a girl in the office who could also do shorthand and typing for as much money as that," stated Councillor Legge.

"It can't be done," declared Mr.
Harper.

"I think it could," returned
Mr. Legge.

"Then you don't know much about office work," replied Mr.
Harper.

Mr. Harper stated that he believed his knowledge of municipal business of value to Whitchurch and that it equipped him to do a better job for the township.

The matter was left for the incoming council to give final approval or make whatever changes it thought necessary to the new wage scale.

IN MEMORIAM
Fountain - In loving memory of our dear uncle, L.-Cpl. James (Jim) Fountain, who was killed in Italy on December 20, 1944, buried in Vellanova cemetery, Italy.

Your presence is very near us. Your love remains with us yet; You were the kind of an uncle Your loved ones will never forget.

Ever remembered by Doris, Verne and Lowell.

FOUNTAIN - In loving memory of a dear son and brother, L.-Cpl. James (Jim) Fountain, killed on active service on December 20, 1944, buried in Vellanova cemetery.

He lives far off in Italy, His grateful battle done; His heart still freedom won. But those of us who hold him dear In our hearts shall pray, And keep a sacred memory At the price he had to pay.

Sadly missed and always remembered by dad and family.

LEPARD - In memory of Ethel Lillian Lepard who departed December 25, 1948.

We are sad within our memory, Lonely are our hearts today; For the mother we loved so dearly Has forever been called away.

We think of her in silence; No eyes can see us weep. But many silent tears are shed When others are asleep.

Always in the memories of your Maryland children.

LEPARD - In loving memory of our dear father, George, and mother, Ethel, who passed away January 4, 1943, and December 25, 1948.

In our chest of cherished memories We've locked up thoughts of you; Your smiling faces, your tender love

And the things you used to do, And very often when we're alone We open up the chest And spend a while just thinking Of the ones we loved the best.

Lovingly remembered by all the children.

MOORHEAD - In loving memory of a dear dad, Thomas Moorhead, who passed away December 19, 1949.

When evening shades are falling And we sit in quiet alone, To our hearts there comes a longing.

It did only come home. Friends may think we have forgotten

When at times they see us smile, But they little know the heartache Our smile hides all the while.

Sadly missed but lovingly remembered by daughter, Florence, and son-in-law, Arthur, and grandchildren, Frank, Billie and Carman.

SCOTT - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Scott, who passed to eternal rest December 21, 1948.

In the garden of memories we meet every day. Let's greatest gift, remembrance. Sadly missed and ever remembered by his wife, Della, and family.

SMITH - In loving memory of a dear father, John A. Smith, Holland Landing, who passed away November 27, 1948.

He suffered patiently and long; His hope was bright, his faith was strong; The peace of Jesus filled his breast And in His arms he sank to rest.

Remembered by his son, C. Edward Smith, and his family of Tillsonburg.

SMITH - In fond and loving memory of mom, Wilhelmina Blanche Speck, who passed away December 13, 1948.

There's a road we call remembrance Where thoughts and wishes meet; We take the road in thought today For one we cannot greet.

Dearest still as the years depart; Your memory lives within our hearts; With tender love and deep regret We who loved you will never forget.

Sadly missed by son, C. Edward Smith, and his family of Tillsonburg.

THE HOMEMAKERS

'Thirteenth Month' Pickings

The week between Christmas and New Year's has been called "the 13th month" and the name is apt because it is set apart from the remainder of the year and every day is so crammed full of living that the six days may seem like a whole month.

For one thing visitors are dropping in at all hours and often staying for a meal. Family and friends, home for holidays, are reason enough for specially planned social affairs.

Very often a cup of tea or a cold, fruit drink and a piece of Christmas cake is all the food necessary to give the feeling of real hospitality. Sometimes it is a good idea to have a jellied salad on hand for the emergency meal and the family will enjoy it if no one else appears.

The last bits and pieces of turkey carefully salvaged from the bones may be augmented with chopped celery, apple, potato or canned pineapple to make a substantial salad. Pimento, green pepper, parsley or a few blanched almonds give the salad a more elegant touch.

The salad is pretty to see as well as good to eat if it is served in a ring of jellied cranberries or tomato aspic.

TOMATO LOAF SALAD
1 28-oz. can (2 1/2 cups) tomato juice
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 tsp. sugar
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2 tbsp. gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup diced cooked pork or turkey or chicken
1/2 cup chopped celery or apple
1 tbsp. mayonnaise
1 cup moist cottage cheese
Lettuce
Salad dressing

Simmer tomato juice, onion and sugar for five minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes, then thoroughly dissolve in hot tomato juice. Cool. Mix meat and celery with the tablespoon of mayonnaise. Season cottage cheese to taste with salt. Oil a loaf pan 5" x 8" x 2" and pour in one-third of the tomato juice.

Chill until firm. Cover with meat and celery mixture and add one-third of tomato mixture and chill again until firm. Cover with moist cottage cheese and then the final one-third of the tomato mixture. Allow to chill until firmly set, unmould on a large platter and serve on crisp lettuce with additional salad dressing. Yield: six servings.

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. T. E. Woodruff wishes to thank the members, adherents and the pastor of the Church of the Nazarene for their visit on Christmas Eve when they sang carols.

OBITUARY
E. G. LLOYD
Ewart Gladstone Lloyd, postmaster at Schomberg, died at York County hospital December 15, after an illness of two weeks. He was born at Lloydwood, May 22, 1895, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lloyd, who are living in Schomberg. His first wife, Jean Campbell, predeceased him in 1924. In June 1929 he married Mildred Ferguson.

Christmas Magic Receipts For Community Arena

A generous donation to the building fund for the North Oshington Memorial Center was presented to Mr. Geo. White recently by Mrs. Jas. Clark. The funds were raised at a Christmas bingo held in the hall that evening and was exceptionally well attended by Sutton, Roche's Point, Queensville, the Beaches and local people. The lucky players carried home valuable prizes. There were several double bingos, each winner the recipient of a prize.

Ken Carter won the lucky number for the door prize and received a lovely Christmas plant. Mrs. Bill Johnston won a set of dishes for the free bingo. Mrs. Hare was the winner of a beautiful end table given for the special and Jean Marritt, share-the-wealth.

A lucky draw on a watch was held and the winner was Mrs. Harry Kerr of Toronto.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Last Sunday's carol service in the evening and the children's white gift service in the afternoon and the midnight Christmas Eve choral communion were well attended. There were also services at 8:30 and 10:30 on Christmas day. The church school Christmas party was held in the parish hall, the kindergarten and junior party being held from 4 to 6 o'clock, and the senior school from 6:30 to 9 o'clock.

The church was beautifully decorated for Christmas by the Chancel Guild with evergreens, the gift of Mr. Arnold Reinke, who also supplied the Christmas trees for the children's Christmas party. This year the gifts from the children at the white gift service will be sent to the mission hospital in Baffin Land.

ANSNORVELD

Miss E. Knapper and Miss T. Schuringa are spending the holidays at their respective homes in Windsor and Gormley.

King City And District

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Strathroy, a fine production in an unusual form was given by the Worship, Work and Play club on December 22. The congregations of Strathroy, Eversley and St. Paul's joined to enjoy the program directed by Mrs. Whitley Finch, Mrs. Rhoda Farrer, and the minister, Mr. David Wetherpoon. Children of St. Andrew's congregation and the neighbor's children all took part.

The Christmas story with Biblical setting, costumes and ancient hymns, was read and sung from parchment scroll. Scene by scene, the murals made by the children formed the background for the puppet figures dressed in ancient costumes. It was a cyclorama, moving and effective. Visiting children joined in the carol singing. Mr. Wetherpoon welcomed the gathering and the "unexpected" entrance of Santa Claus gave no end of excitement. Each congregation gave book gifts to the children and Santa handed out the usual treats. Refreshments were afterward served to everyone.

At Temperanceville, Mr. Bill Michell, Sunday school superintendent, and his wife with the teachers of the different classes produced a fine concert in song, plays and recitations.

At Eversley school, Miss Mary Green, teacher, led her scholars through an excellent program attended by 80 people. Three plays, folk dancing in costume, carols and a tree laden with presents made a pleasant evening.

King United Sunday school carried through a varied entertainment at McDonald and Wells hall on Friday evening. Among the numbers were choruses, a vocal solo by Sheila Bell, a piano solo by Patsy Simpson, a recitation by Nancy Patton, vocal solo by Shirley Thomas. The senior boys and girls sang Country Style and Janet Langdon sang a popular number. Rev. M. H. Jenkinson was chairman, and Santa gave out treats.

All Saints Anglican Sunday school enjoyed a series of organized games arranged by Mr. Gordon Tetley early last week, while Old St. Nick dispensed gifts from the tree. Refreshments were served to adults and children provided by the ladies of the congregation.

S.S. 23 Receives Silver Cup

At the annual Christmas party sponsored by King Legion, branch 438, last Friday afternoon in the McDonald and Wells hall, Kinghorn school, S.S. 23, was presented with a silver cup in recognition of contributions to the local Poppy Fund canvass. With a 200 percent per capita achievement, the enrolment of 16 pupils topped some 18 legion area schools in King and Vaughan. Miss Evelyn Courtney, the teacher, accepted the trophy presented by H. A. Phelps, fund chairman, on behalf of branch 438.

Sports and comic films delighted 125 children from district schools and Santa Claus brought 160 bags of Christmas treats. Carol singing filled the interludes with Miss Courtney at the piano and Mrs. Beryl Fleet and Mrs. Judd assisting in leadership. Legion president Donald Findlay was on hand to welcome the happy gathering of children.

An unique musical program was given at Kinghorn school concert on December 21, conducted by Miss Evelyn Courtney the teacher, who provided piano accompaniments. The children sang several dialogue songs with action and in costumes. Performers included Hughie Hambley and Susan Firth, Janet Hoadley and John McNaughton, Kay Campbell and Beverley Miller, Susan Firth and Douglas McNaughton. Beverley Miller and Don Riddell paired in "Santa Comes to Shanty Town" and Douglas Hollinshead acted the recitation "What Became of Albert". The final chorus number was carols by senior pupils with five juniors in white choir gowns and black ties depicting the theme in action. Silent Night was especially effective in this manner. Francis McNaughton, a senior student, was an able master of ceremonies.

Handicraft gifts made by the students brought surprise to the mothers of the children. Each had made a pair of plaques with handpainted flowers and spray. One mother who has five offspring attending Kinghorn received five pairs of plaques.

Miss Courtney was presented with a coral nylon sweater and a pair of red leather fur-back mitts from the scholars. Name and exchange gifts were distributed from the tree to each pupil. Following Santa's gifts, the teacher served individual plates of refreshments to the 50 adults and children, which included Christmas cake and hot chocolate.

An Aurora Opinion

Are kindergartens merely baby tenders? The bone of contention has been tossed between retired or childless ratepayers and the parents of small children for sometime since it was first suggested that a kindergarten will be part of the new public school set-up.

Many of the older residents claim that their families grew up quite successfully without the benefit of this early training. Still we must admire the ingenuity and determination of a group of mothers who recently held teas to raise funds for equipment and found a room in the United church which can be used this year until the new addition to the high school has been built after the public school takes over.

Actually just what is "kindergarten" and why do the majority of teachers endorse this method of early class training?

The idea was originated by a German by the name of Froebel and a more advanced and creative teaching method was invented some years later by an Italian and his wife. Their system has become famous as the Montessori Method. Froebel called his inspiration kindergarten "children's garden" and whereas he did not invent the spectacular equipment that can be credited to the Montessoris and which is used in some form in most kindergartens today, he had the same fundamental idea of teaching the very young child to develop an alertness and to correlate hand and mind. Both methods were expressly designed to encourage originality, color sense, outline and concentration.

Kindergarten is a preparation for longer and more arduous school hours. It teaches children to have for the most part been playing in their own backyards, to work and play as a group. To the question "What do children learn in kindergarten", the answer is "co-operation". There is a definite scholastic benefit. It has been proven that the child who has had the privilege of attending a kindergarten has an advantage over the pupil who has not, especially during the first weeks of school when they must become adjusted to the more serious routine of a full day.

The highly technical aptitude tests to determine correlation which have been adopted by the armed forces are a more adult version of kindergarten equipment. If these tests of fitting pegs into holes and recognizing how squares and triangles fit together are considered valuable as a yardstick to determine a serviceman's alertness, then the juvenile method designed with the same purpose in mind must have some merit.

Today's kindergarten is not just a game of paper dolls and sand boxes, but a well planned course with a purpose, the purpose being to lay a firm foundation both emotionally and intelligently on which the structure of modern education can be built. Every child deserves this privilege, not just the few who in the past have been able to attend a private kindergarten.

Keswick News

The Christian church held a most enjoyable Christmas party on Friday evening, Dec. 15. First on the evening's entertainment was a turkey dinner with tables loaded down with holiday fare. The tables looked exceptionally gay, using for the first time the very lovely full set of dishes, the generous gift of Dr.

Kingsley Johnston of Cleveland (nephew of Mr. Chas. Anderson). After the dinner there was a long and varied program during which Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hirst were extended good wishes from their church friends and given a gift as a tangible expression of good will on their recent marriage. Mrs. Hirst, an accomplished reader, gave three interesting readings which were much enjoyed. The program was a fine one which everyone appreciated and closed with Santa's appearance and a Christmas tree. A truly enjoyable evening.

Mrs. J. J. Cameron, who has been in York County, and also the Western hospital, Toronto, since late August returned home last Friday. Miss Myrtle Lloyd of Toronto is staying with her for a time.

Miss Ann Chantler of Toronto, who has been with her cousin, Mrs. Wm. Holborn, has gone to Ottawa to visit her brother.

Cook's Bay is frozen over but far from safe as yet. Weather is sunny this week and cool.

The post office officials are handling the largest mails in some time but our fine new post office is well equipped for the Christmas rush.

A successful euchre of 20 tables was held under the auspices of Keswick Hockey club, winners were: ladies first, Mrs. Aylward Marritt; ladies second, Mrs. Pettinger; gents first, Mr. Thos. Miller; gents second, Lorne Taylor; lone hand, Mrs. Wm. Foster; consolation, Mr. M. W. Connell; door prize, Mr. Norman Rogers, Armistead.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

As we come to the close of 1950, we are able to look back across another year of pleasant associations with the women's organizations of Newmarket. It has been a busy year for them and in most instances, a most gratifying one.

Through the reports of their activities we have attempted to give an accurate picture of their many contributions to the life of our community.

It is no small part which these groups play in the work of the local churches, in welfare projects and in the many special appeals which arise during the months. There was the house-to-house canvass for financial assistance to the flood victims of Manitoba, just to mention one example. In this work, various women's groups were allocated sections of the town and in a matter of days had a thorough and successful canvass completed. The previous year they worked together on the diabetic survey.

Newmarket may be justly proud of its public spirited women's groups. There are not many towns of comparable size which can boast of such an amazing number which maintain vigorous programs. Whether it is the Women's Institute, the Business and Professional Women's club, the Home and School Association or one of the many active church groups, there is a keen awareness of the need for each individual, regardless of sex, age or creed, to be concerned about everything affecting the community. Isolationism is as outmoded for personal relationships as it is on the international front.

The women who make up the membership in these groups are the ones who are free of household tasks, whose children have grown up so that they have no ties on their time? No. For the most part they are busy homemakers with young families. For them, their work in civic and church groups means a sacrifice of personal leisure. But they would quickly say that it was no sacrifice for they enjoyed the work. That's true and as it should be.

A mother should be interested in everything with which her children will come in contact. She can not remain completely within the confines of her own home; refusing an active share in the work of public organizations which help to make Newmarket a better town in which to raise a family, and feel that she is fulfilling her obligation to her children.

How often we hear young mothers say that it is impossible for them to accept office in a group because of their ties at home, but if they were really interested they could find some way in which they could help. These same women are frequently the most critical of those who are trying to do their share. They maintain active social lives, but are unwilling themselves to accept any responsibility towards their school, church or community.

As John Fisher said in a talk at the annual Women's Institute convention in the fall, "If everyone in your town did as much or as little as you did would you be proud of your town?" As we begin another year perhaps we should think for awhile about that remark.

This is the traditional season for making resolutions. We should take stock of ourselves in the light of our community-awareness. Where necessary, we should change our pattern of thinking so that we are less critical of those who do try to carry the responsibility of the group.

We could not close our last column for the year without saying how much we have appreciated the interested which so many of you have shown in the arrival of our second son. The many inquiries, the cards and other gifts made us very happy in the knowledge of your good wishes.

Because of this event it has been impossible for us to attend the many public functions which the local clubs sponsor. The fact that we have been able to carry complete reports on these various activities is indicative of the excellent co-operation which we have received from these groups. To these organizations and particularly to the press secretaries we wish to say how very grateful we are for this. Without such assistance it would be almost impossible to maintain our usual three pages of women's news.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS

Christmas Day has gone but still; The joy and beauty of it rests within our hearts; For then our lamps of faith and love we fill From the full cruse the Christ child's birth imparts.

And now, before us stretches a new year; A book whose pages spotless lie - A path that we approach with hope and fear, But hoping to cheer some as we pass by.

We almost fear to turn the first new page; To take the first step on the narrow way, So many battles with ourselves to wage, So many blots to mar each page, each day.

But there is hope though oft our hearts may fail, For still the Star of Bethlehem conquers fear. It shows how God's great love can still prevail And shed a ray of hope on the New Year.

Next week: Christmas services.

ROCKETS TAKE GREYS, LOSE TO GREENSHIRTS

Newmarket junior "Rockets" stopped Owen Sound "Greys", the visitors here Tuesday, 9-7. The Rockets let fire with all barrels in the second period to run in five goals. That second period hoisted the Rockets from 4-1 underdogs to 6-5 leaders as the second recess came up. The Rockets flared again to start the third away to raise their margin to 8-5. That cushion served them well as the Greys bounced back to pull up within one of a tie at 8-7. Rockets added a last minute insurer with 12 seconds to go.

Ditch Diggers Tan Tanners' Hides 8-0

Ditch Diggers laid down their shovels long enough to smash the four-game winning streak of the Collis "Tanners" in the Aurora town league last week. The Diggers made it a landslide skunking the Tanners 8-0. Hot shot shooters with Mickey Sutton's Diggers were Doug Miller and Earl MacDonald, with a pair. Mike Cosgrove, Mickey Sutton, "Shorty" Sutton and John Stasko sniped for singles to complete the rout of the Tanners. The Tanners were without several regulars and indicate '51 will find them back on the victory trail.

Keswick Opens Rural Loop Against Beaverton

Keswick's entry in the Tri-County Rural Hockey circuit under the eye of Ken Davie will open against Beaverton tonight. Opening game is scheduled for next Tuesday evening. Fans had better batten down the hatches for the opening affair brings in the big bad Greenshirts from Sutton headed by coach Ellis Pringle.

Coach Davie has about settled on his line-up for the get-away struggles. Alex. Young will guard the rigging. Defense duties will be shared by Bud Thompson, Tom Hare and Gord Clark. Albert Smith will centre one line with Ted Anderson and Ivan Rye the flankers. Ralph Huskinson will set up the plays for Sam Lattimer and Geo. Luftus on a second front line string. Jim Cook and playing coach Ken Davie will complete the forward puck-carrying corps.

JUVENILES WIN THEIR FIRST

Newmarket juveniles won their first, a 3-2 win over Cecil Morris' minor midget crew from the T.H.L. last week. The locals had the early jump which stood them in good stead as the visitors reared back to knot the count early in the third. Jack Staley fired the winning marker. Cecil Morris has been practising at the local ice diggings each week and is hoping to line up ice here for playdowns in the O.M.H.A.

Kettleby Wins Again Now In Third Place

Kettleby continued on its merry winning way in last week's King-Vaughan hockey league action. Bill Muirhead's clan took Kleinburg to the cleaners 5-2. It was the third straight win for Kettleby and enabled them to vacate the league basement and move up into third place. Bill Dale, granted permission to play as a replacement for Bill Attridge, fired two goals to lead the attack. Ray Rogers, Jim Patton and Johnnie Wist hit the score sheet for a goal each.

In the second tilt, Nobleton strengthened its hold on the top roost, rolling to a 5-1 win over Schomberg. It was the Bergers' fourth straight loss. Ross Collins, a newcomer to grace the Bergers' line-up, cut in on the Nobleton cage to let fly a sizzler that kept Elgin Hastings' platoon from getting the full whitewash treatment. The league is having a stormy passage at the moment due to player shiftings. The league governors met last week but failed to hit on a solution to the problem. They're expected to again make a stab at ironing out various difficulties this week. This Friday Kettleby collides with the front-runners, Nobleton. Schomberg will play Kleinburg in other section of the double-header attraction.

Spits Floor Shipbuilders In Rough, Tough Battle

If there was any Yuletide win secure on the strength of a five-goal second period against the two Al Kirby of the visitors whopped in, and Kirby had to work hard to get 'em as Joe Tunney was at his top best. Ken Thoms spearheaded the Spits' drive with three, Ken Broughton and Denny Labine knocking for singles.

After the second recess Spits still held the whip hand, outscoring the visitors by a 3-1 margin to pull their total up into the two figure column. Ken Thoms nailed his fifth, Al Shewchuk a tower of strength back of the blue stripe and Ken Broughton, his second of the night, completed the scoring exercises. Jack Cochran opened the third period with a goal in the first minute of action to give the visitors their third tally.

Coach Larry Molyneux started with ten men, added another when Joe Peat appeared, but Bill Mabbett was skulled into the end boards in the first and Denny Labine became a stitching job in the second as Eddie Bush, doubling as coach and defenseman with the visitors, speared our wingman in the ribs with the end of his broken stick. Main fireworks popped midway through the second as Bush, then Al Shewchuk, were skunked to the sin bin for over-abundance of chin wagging. Jack Wheeler joined them with a major for cross-checking Myles McInnis in to the boards.

So far as hockey playing goes the Spits had it over the visiting swingers like a tent. Ken "Motts" Thoms supplied most of the snap, crackle, pop with a five-goal performance and for good measure laid in a store of two assists. The Spits never let the Shipbuilders get untracked. They leaped into a 2-0 lead on first period tallies by Gord Bone and Ken Thoms. Spits made their

Wing Wheelers Break Indians' Winning Streak

Aurora "Indians" were riding on the crest of a four-game winning streak until last Friday. Wing Wheelers, a collection of North Toronto and Upper Canada College "old boys", latest and possibly the fastest entry in the Trolley League, snapped the Indians' win streak as they put them away 7-2.

Give Thought To Game Athlete

As Kid 1951 is getting ready to make his appearance let's you and I who are able to enjoy all the trimmings of the holiday season in high gear and attend the sporting functions that are so plentiful, remember that game little athlete Bill Williams, who still lies in hospital and faces months of paraplegic training. A good New Year's resolution is to attend the Willie Fund benefit hockey match at Aurora on Wednesday, Jan. 10.

If you can't attend, buy a ticket anyway. The entire proceeds go direct to the fund, and you'll have a chance on some lucky draw prizes. Toronto Royals will provide the opposition for Aurora Indians for this one, and Claude Kewley's team who have a bye into the O.H.A. series will give the popular T.H.L. a real test. A well known N.H.L. figure will face the puck, and sign whatever autographs the kids want, and Les Beazer will have some of the skaters from the Maple Leaf Ice Rink on hand to entertain between periods. It's a big bargain program and one that will please the whole family. You'll be asked to buy a ticket in advance, and if you can't go yourself you can always give it to some one who can. Need we say more.

Quite a few changes in the hockey picture the past few weeks. Eddie Williams, talented young defenceman of Aurora Bears, was the first player suspended under the O.H.A. "vocabulary rule". Eddie used some choice words, 'tis said, against referee Andy Bellemer in the game against Weston Marlborough and the O.H.A. acted promptly. In the second tilt, Nobleton strengthened its hold on the top roost, rolling to a 5-1 win over Schomberg. It was the Bergers' fourth straight loss. Ross Collins, a newcomer to grace the Bergers' line-up, cut in on the Nobleton cage to let fly a sizzler that kept Elgin Hastings' platoon from getting the full whitewash treatment.

LEAFS, WINGS WIN - BRUINS, CANADIANS TIE

Detroit "Red Wings" and Toronto "Maple Leafs" were victors in last week's N.H.L. struggle while Boston "Bruins" and Montreal "Canadiens" deadlocked at two-all.

In the early game of the tripartite Forhan brothers, Bob and Bill, the Leafs nosed out the Rangers 5-4. Bob Forhan had three while brother Bill shot it two. Doug May with two, Gec Davis and Bob Broadbent with singles were the snipers for the Rangers. Red Wings applied the white wash brush to the Black Hawks 5-0. Freeman West with three and Ken Bell with two carried the offensive load for the winners.

In the third contest Bruins and Canadiens settled for a two-tie. Murray Chantler and El Mair scored for the Bruins while Jack Cain was the M. Y. for both Canadian tallies. From here on the league will operate each Friday night as a triple header attraction. Season booster tickets can be obtained from Frank Hollingsworth, Ernie Miller, Jack Hamilton, Jim Walker.

TWO AURORANS INJURED
The injury jinx that was the exclusive property of the Spits' has struck at Aurora teams. Last Wednesday Ron Simionis, pivot-man of Harold Roge, "Indians", fractured a wrist at Unionville in a Trolley League contest with Dawes-Danforth "Combiners". The injury will put him out for six weeks. Aurora won 7-5. Laurie "Ortie" Thoms, Aurora "Bears", was injured in Friday night's game at Weston. It was thought at first he had fractured a wrist. X-rays Saturday proved the injury to be a severe sprain. Laurie possibly will be able to get back into the game this week.

the O.H.A. "Just say we've got new faces to fill the gaps as the team will be really flying in January", sez Sachem Rogers. The Indians meet Winged W. who who handed them their first defeat on Tuesday last. I should be a dandy. Aurora Bears enter the second half of the schedule in fourth place in the group and from here in every game will have a bit bearing on the play-off. The hungry North Toronto Lions will be back next Friday night for a league fixture and these two titbits always put on a real shin dig. Weston Marlborough better St. Mike's and are the team to beat. St. Mike's are a sure bet for the playoffs and the other two spots are wide open. N.H.L. is a great finish and the return of students O'Hearn, Wolochatuk and Scanlon to the Aurora line up will help things out. Cain has the boys bearing down and the armchair critics just remember the words of Bill Hanes who said "A coach can't be any better than his players". Hancock piloted Newmarket to Memorial Cup and never too over a club unless he was entirely satisfied with the roster of players on hand. Andy Olson is all smiles with the grouping that has come up for his junior D team. Bowmanville, Millbrook and C. no a bit long, the opposition will be good and those who have seen the Aurora Cubs in action are mighty high on their chances. Thursday nights are the home nights for the team. Year end review comes in next week and we wish you and yours A Happy New Year!
